

Elizabeth Johnson

Associate

212 660 3006

ejohnson@sullivanlaw.com

Elizabeth is a first-year associate in Sullivan's New York office. Elizabeth earned her J.D. at Suffolk University Law School, where she served as a Note Editor on the Suffolk University Law Review and as Chief of Operations to the Student Bar Association, as well as an admissions ambassador. During law school, she published a Note in the Suffolk University Law Review titled "Free the Books: A Review of Public School Students' First Amendment Rights in the Wake of Book Removals from School Libraries." Elizabeth received her B.A. in Politics with a minor in Philosophy from Saint Anselm College, where she was a member of the Kevin B. Harrington Student Ambassador Program to the New Hampshire Institute of Politics.

Before joining the firm, Elizabeth gained experience at various Boston law firms where she worked on commercial and employment litigation matters.

Education

- Suffolk University Law School (J.D.)
- Saint Anselm College (B.A.)

Bar & Court Admissions

- New York

Viewpoints

June 1, 2026

SEC Proposes Reforms to Registered Offering Framework

May 27, 2026

World Cup Marketing Without the Whistle: A Practical Guide for Non-Sponsor Brands