Jillian focuses her practice on capital markets and securities transactions. She represents issuers, underwriters and other market participants in a broad range of public and private debt and equity offerings, including initial public offerings, follow-on offerings and SPAC and de-SPAC transactions. Jillian also advises public companies on SEC reporting and disclosure obligations, corporate governance and ongoing regulatory compliance.

Before joining Sullivan, Jillian was an associate at several other international law firms in New York and Singapore, where she advised clients on cross-border capital markets transactions and regulatory issues. She also served as Senior Legal Counsel for a Singapore-based technology company.
