Karolina advises on a wide range of cross-border finance transactions including receivables finance, payment instrument facilities as well as project and export credit finance, and general secured and unsecured finance transactions.

She also has several years of experience acting for banks, debt funds and corporate borrowers in connection with a variety of multi-jurisdictional real estate finance transactions, on both the finance aspects and the real estate aspects. This includes working on real estate acquisition, investment and development financings across a variety of sectors, notably hotels, residential and student accommodation, from single assets to multi-asset portfolios.

Karolina has undertaken successful secondments to the structured finance and real estate finance legal team of a UK clearing bank, and to a Development Finance Institution where she managed the transition away from LIBOR in respect of its asset and liability loan books.
