Tina is an experienced venture capital lawyer who has been active in the UK, European and US venture capital markets for many years. She advises a broad range of venture capital funds, growth investors and high-growth technology companies on venture financings and related transactions. Her practice includes advising on complex and high-value investments across all stages of a company's growth cycle.

She regularly advises on transactions using both NVCA and BVCA documentation and has extensive experience of cross-border financings involving US, UK and European investors and companies. Her work includes advising US investors investing in UK businesses, UK, European and US companies raising capital from US and International funds, and UK and European investors investing in US companies, as well as transactions involving bespoke investment structures.

Tina acts for both investors and founders and is known for providing practical, commercially focused advice on complex transactions. She has represented many successful and high profile UK and European tech businesses over the course of her career. Her experience across multiple jurisdictions enables her to help clients navigate the legal and commercial considerations that arise in cross-border activities.
